Loving Cups Were Awarded Winners
In Music and Debating Contests.

The honors were evenly distributed in the literary contests held in the college auditorium the evenings of May 6 and 7. Representatives from the following high schools won first place in some event: Ravenwood, Liberty, Maysville, Martinsville, Breckenridge, Maryville and Benton—St. Joseph.

Ravenwood won the debate Friday night by the unanimous decision of the judges. The question debated was Resolved: That a Federal Law Providing for Compulsory Arbitration Between Employer and Employee is Wise and Feasible.

Ravenwood was ably represented by Sylvia Rogers and Merlin Warehime for the affirmative; the negative was upheld by Florine Pollard and Homer Williams of Barnard. Both teams are to be highly commended on their handling of the subject; the reasoning of both teams was well worked out, but the delivery of the Ravenwood team was superior to that of the Barnard team.

The next feature of the program was the extemporaneous speaking for girls and boys.

Irene Froman of Liberty won first place in the girls' contest and Dorothea McClain of Benton High School, St. Joseph, won second place. Miss Froman chose for her subject, Shall the United States support California in the stand she has taken against the Japanese? Miss McClain chose the same subject.

In the boys' contest Covell Roberts of Maysville won first place and Euclid Brinton of Savannah won second. Both boys chose for their subject, Should Germany pay her full indemnity?

The quartett is composed of Russell Allen, Floyd Foreman, Carlos Yehle and Floyd Lunsford. They sang "Good Night" by A. J. Parks, the winning song in the Mound City sub-district contests.

Three hikes seven and eight miles in length were taken on consecutive afternoons, May 3-5. Of the hikers now in school Anna Mae Gillis first completed her 150 miles. She has a total of 157 miles to her credit.

Talk—"What Makes for Success"..... Miss DeLuce

Miss DeLuce gave a very inspiring talk to the organization on what leads to success. Personality is the biggest thing in life. In defining the word one could say that personality is the sum total of all positive qualities. The characteristics making a positive personality are: optimism versus pessimism; kindness versus harshness; courtesy versus discourtesy; courage versus cowardice; sincerity versus insincerity; knowledge versus ignorance. Other qualities are tact, enthusiasm, ambition, satisfaction, confidence, purpose, concentration, work and thrift. In order to make this positive personality it is necessary to analyze one's self, to eliminate the qualities that are not good and to stimulate those that are good. It is also necessary to believe in one's self and what one stands for. The three divisions of the characteristics of a positive personality are ability, reliability and leadership.

THE GREEN AND WHITE COURIER

The Stroller.

The Stroller has had the greatest sympathy for those who have had sore arms recently; but Mr. Kutschinsky does not seem to need sympathy. Other things besides vaccination can cause pain and the Stroller wonders if the doctor's Ford is not responsible for Mr. Kutschinsky's left-handedness.

The Stroller doesn't think much of the Courier staff because it doesn't attend to its own business. If Miss Helwig forgets to teach her class, the Stroller doesn't regard it as good sportsmanship on the part of the staff to remind her.

When Dr. Keller announced at his Sunday School picnic, that on the return trip no two girls could walk together and no two boys, there was a great deal of excitement. It turned out that one boy had to walk with two girls. After much fun the crowd started home; but Marshall Long was so excited because he had two girls that he forgot his coat and Harriet Van Buren was so rejoiced at having one-half of a man that she forgot her kodak.

Dr. Keller puts happiness into life but Miss Miller takes the joy out of life. If you don't believe it, the Stroller advises you to ask Bill Mapel and Leila Black.

The Stroller was in Miss Winn's room last week and overheard Miss Hopkins reading to Miss Winn some passages from a set of test papers. The answers on those test papers were very strange; the Stroller thinks the president ought to investigate just what Miss Hopkins is teaching.

The chemistry class recently took an examination. After the papers were handed back with the grades on them, Jesse Boatman went to Mr. Wilson and said: "I don't think this is fair, sir; I don't think I should have a zero on this examination." "I know it," replied Mr. Wilson, "but we do not have any mark lower than that."

The Stroller was taking supper at Perrin Hall, Thursday evening when a certain man came in with his niece and proceeded to introduce Miss Winn as Miss Arnett. The Stroller being interested in psychology wonders if it was due to the mind's set or whether it was an unconscious obedience to the laws of habit formation.

The Stroller has discovered that the Min-ni-chee-ock who went on that first sunrise have been concealing a tale of terror, the first episode of which begins with the words, "It is a disgrace to civilization." Now if the girls are not mighty considerate of the Stroller's feelings, he will reveal ALL.

The Senior High School class had a little lark out at the College park, Monday, May 9, there are fourteen members of the class. Dr. Fred Keller is the Senior Sponsor. Other guests were Mr. Cook and Miss Hopkins, high school advisors, Mrs. Keller and baby Jeane were additional guests.
